

SRC'09
The European
Security Research Conference
2009
Brokerage Event
30th of September 2009 in Stockholm

Enterprise Europe Network

Enterprise Europe Network is the new technology and business co-operation network for Europe. Enterprise Europe Network offers support on your doorstep with regional partners in more than 40 countries. We help to pave your way towards innovation, new technologies and new markets.

LänsTekniskt Centrum Kramfors, as a member of the technology network, organises this Brokerage Event in context of the SRC09, Security Research Conference in Stockholm.

The brokerage event offers a platform for bilateral meetings and gives room for international experts, researchers and innovators. It shall serve as a gateway to international technology transfer and co-operation.

Your Benefits

- meet companies and institutes, technology developers and organisations which offer or seek innovative technologies
- generate sustainable, bilateral and need-driven cross-border contacts in selected areas
- accelerate innovation cycles through co-operation
- embrace trends and developments in the areas of your individual interest
- learn about the services of Enterprise Europe Network

How to participate
